The Unica website and all its parts, with the exception of certain (hyper)links, are the property of Unica. It is not permitted to publish, copy or store, in any form or in any way whatsoever, the website or parts of it without the express written permission of Unica. This permission is not required for personal, non-commercial use.

Unica takes great care with the content of its websites. The information provided via the website basically originates from proprietary sources. Nevertheless it is possible that information published on the website is out of date or no longer correct / incorrect. Insofar as third-party sources are used, this is done with permission and reference to the source.

Therefore, no rights may be derived from the website in reference to Unica. The information on this website does not represent an offer, advice or service.

Unica regularly adds to the information on the website. Unica reserves the right to implement any changes immediately and without notice. Unica tries to make its website as safe as possible and ensure its optimal performance. If you have come across a vulnerability or suspect that information on the website is incorrect, please report this by sending an e-mail to marketing@unica.nl.

Unica excludes any and all liability for any direct or indirect incidental damage resulting from the use of this website. Unica is not liable in any way whatsoever for any malfunctions, errors or interruptions in the electronic publication of the website and related data services.

Certain (hyper)links on this website lead to websites outside the domain of Unica that are not the property of Unica. These are only included for the purpose of providing information to the visitor. If these links are activated, you will leave the Unica website. Although Unica is highly selective in terms of the websites it refers to, it cannot guarantee the content and functioning thereof, nor the quality of any products or services offered on those sites.
